“Laura is a great artist and teacher. She brings real passion for her subject with lots of knowledge about leading artists and a variety of techniques and methods for creating art. She combines this with carefully planned and structured classes, video preparation, and empathy for her students, which encourage them to go to the next step in their creative efforts.” MW

SPRING LANDSCAPES - WITH A LOOK AT DAVID HOCKNEY

David Hockney is a popular and wonderful painter so this workshop will look at some of his work (and others who have been influenced by him) and explore how we can learn from his style. Subject for this workshop will be THE SPRING LANDSCAPE which will hopefully , anticipate that Spring is well and truly on its way. We will use some mixed media and acrylic paints and inks for these sessions.

Wednesday 27th April And Wednesday 4th May

MIXING AND USING NEUTRAL COLOURS USING OBJECTS AS SUBJECT MATTER

It's easy to use favourite colours straight from the tube creating work with similar colour schemes. This workshop will explore the mixing of neutralised and neutral colours which will help to expand your repertoire of colours allowing many more possibilities for atmospheric and individual paintings. We will use objects as subject matter and materials will include the usual acrylic paints, plus maybe some collage and also other mixed media. This will be your choice.

Wednesday 25th May And Wednesday 8th June

A SINGLE FIGURE OR PEOPLE IN GROUPS - AN ABSTRACT APPROACH

This workshop will find ways to create images showing single figures or people in groups in a suggestive and abstract way rather than very specific representational figure drawing. We will concentrate on loose ways to paint the figure while also investigate their surroundings and environment, putting figures into context and helping to tell a story. Material will include acrylics and extra materials. We will also look at artists who work in this way for inspiration.
